

Congratulations on completing your test!

Captains, please place your cauldron near the Grand Cauldron and mark the order of your arrival on the tally sheet. Make sure that all ingredients and sealed emergency clues are present.

If you are the first team to arrive, please find the lighter on the table and light the candles throughout the house.

Once all the teams arrived, I will bring out the refreshments, announce myself and award the winners. Until that time, please enjoy the fire and make yourself comfortable. I will be with you soon.
